The Trevor Project :30

Everyone deserves the right to feel equal regardless of how they identify themselves. We know asking for help can be scary, and it's not always easy, but that is what we are here for. The Trevor Project is the leading national organization providing crisis intervention and suicide prevention services to LGBTQ youth. The 24/7 hotlines offer free and confidential services over the phone, online, and through text. If you are thinking about suicide or need support, call the Trevor Lifeline at 1-866-488-7386 or visit thetrevorproject.org.
